

Water in Jeopardy: Students put together this video to spark conversation surrounding water conservation and feasible steps Clemson students can take to become water conscious.

1. What facts presented in this video surprised you about the water treatment cycle at Clemson?
2. What feasible steps can you take to change your water usage habits within your residence hall, suite, or apartment?
3. How can we promote water conservation on Clemson's campus and within the community?
4. What information can we glean from this video to educate those around us?